Step Aside, Mathon-Doc's Taking Over

By Pearl Kapell

Step aside, Mathon. Chuck (Doc) Solar is taking over. And Chuck says your weather predictions are for the birds.

Chuck—Dr. Charles Solar, podiatrist, of Antioch—bases his weather forecasts on the mushrooms. For years, he says, he has been reading Mathon Kyristsis's annual forecasts. And either perch are very unreliable weather forecasters, says Chuck, or Mathon just does not speak their language.

A story on the front page of the Chicago Tribune last Monday giving the results of Mathon's latest chat with his finny friends was the straw that broke the camel's back, as far as Doc was concerned. Mathon confidently predicted a mild winter. "Tain't so," says Doc. "The mushrooms have spoken."

Now mushrooms, says Doc, know what they're talking about, weather-wise. And he has complete faith in his ability to interpret their language. He has gathered mushrooms since he was knee high to a grasshopper, mushroom lore is bred into his bones as an inheritance of his Bohemian ancestors, and he practices the art of mushroom gathering, eating and interpreting faithfully.

So now for Chuck's fearless forecast. And we'd like to point out that he's considerably more specific than Mathon, who merely says, "Mild" or "cold" winter, and leaves the rest to your own interpretation of what constitutes mild or cold.

We'll have a nice, mild October and November, says Doc. A cold December and January, then mild weather for the balance of the winter. Not too bad, huh?

Doc Solar's prediction is based on the sponge, or cauliflower mushroom, a sample of which he shows in the accompanying picture. These mushrooms—and Doc's description of the gustatory pleasures of eating them will make you drool—normally show up in this area around the first of October. This year, August's cool weather hastened the season, and brought the mushrooms about a month early. Hence the cold December forecast.

The sponge mushrooms, if you're interested in some botanical sidelights, grow on black oak trees. They can attain a huge size, some growing to 30 or 40 pounds of lip-smacking goodness.

Doc has complete faith, also, in his ability to pick non-poisonous mushrooms. He doesn't give any rule of thumb for doing so, he just knows the varieties. Never made a mistake yet, he says. He's also a connoisseur.

He's faintly contemptuous of those mushroom enthusiasts who gather just any old edible mushroom. There are only three varieties in this area worth eating, he says—the sponge mushroom, the button, and a third, which he failed to name, but of which he showed us a sample—a variety, he says, which grows under mats of leaves in the woods.

Doc spends every Wednesday hunting mushrooms, at the proper time of year, and occasionally even sneaks out on a long lunch hour to indulge in his favorite pastime. "Some people like to bowl, some like to play golf," says Doc. "I like to tramp through the woods hunting for mushrooms."

A mild winter, Mathon says. A cold December and January, retorts Doc. We'll be eagerly waiting to see who is right.

Start Building Central High Addition Soon

The Central High School Board of Education accepted several bids for the addition to the high school and alteration of the present physical plant at the meeting of the Board last Tuesday night.

Contracts were awarded to Salvano Bros. Construction Co., Inc., of Racine, for general construction; Kaelber Heating and Ventilating of Kenosha, heating; Nardi Electric of Kenosha, electrical; and Harry Breen Co. of Williams Bay, plumbing. Work on the addition will commence soon.

A letter from the State Superintendent of Public Instruction was read advising that the school district would receive integrated aid for the coming school year.

The board approved the installation of a low Century fence around the south balcony of the gym. The fence is for protection during physical education classes.

School enrollment as of September 8 is 743 students. This includes 171 seniors, 160 juniors, 185 sophomores, 225 freshmen and two special students.

Fox Lake Woman Accused of Murder of Her Husband

A Fox Lake woman accused of stabbing her husband to death Monday has stuck to her story that an intruder was the murderer.

Mrs. Patricia Lynn, a waitress, says that she and her husband were sleeping, and that someone awakened her and said he had killed her husband.

According to sheriff's deputies, she said she went into the kitchen, got a can of beer and lit a cigarette, then awakened her sister-in-law, Mary Alice Lynn, who lived with them.

The sister-in-law said she had heard nothing, and had locked the doors before she went to bed.

George Lynn, 32, a construction worker, the murdered man, had been stabbed several times in the chest, according to the sheriff's report. The murder weapon was not found.

R. Lorenz Dies At 54

Numerous State and civic dignitaries attended the funeral in Antioch Monday, September 14, of Raymond F. Lorenz, owner of Lorenz's Smart Country House west of Antioch.

Among those present were Mayor Richard J. Daley of Chicago, State's Attorney Dan Ward and the brother of the deceased, Francis S. Lorenz, Director of Illinois Department of Public Works and Buildings.

Mr. Lorenz died in St. Theres Hospital on Friday, September 11, after a one-year illness. He was 54 years old at the time of his death.

He was born in Chicago on July 26, 1910, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Lorenz. He was in the Food Market business in Chicago before coming to Antioch ten years ago.

He was united in marriage to Gertrude Brzezinski on November 16, 1932, in Chicago. Mr. and Mrs. Lorenz operated the Country House for the ten years they lived in Antioch.

Mr. Lorenz was a member of St. Peter's Catholic Church; a former member of the Antioch Chamber of Commerce; a member of Antioch Moose Lodge, and a member of the Tavern Owners Association.

Mr. Lorenz is survived by his wife, Gertrude; two sons, Raymond and Robert; two grandchildren, Shawn and Susan; his parents, Stanley and Helen Lorenz; one brother, Francis S. Lorenz, and one sister, Mrs. Tony (Betty) Fredericks. He was preceded in death by one son, Ronald.

Funeral services were held Monday, September 14, from the Colonial Funeral Home, in Antioch to St. Peter's Church, where mass was celebrated at 10 a.m. Interment was in St. Adalbert's Cemetery at Niles, Illinois.

The first meeting of the Antioch Grade School PTA for this year will be held on Monday, September 21, at 8 p.m.

A de luxe dessert buffet will be served. All parents are invited to attend.

Knotty Problems Face Off-Street Parking Group

The problems that beset the off-street parking committee in Antioch last Wednesday night were many and varied.

The meeting was held in the Antioch Savings & Loan community room to discuss the advisability of installing a parking area behind the stores on the east side of Main St. Mayor Murrill Cunningham and village trustees Ernest Glenn and Roger Williams were present, as were several store and property owners interested in the parking area.

Some of the problems discussed are:

There is a village street running north and south behind the stores which is well on its way to completion. However, for four years now the deeds have been awaiting final signature.

Only nine out of 21 owners who have property facing off Main St. own the property fronting on the newly-constructed street east of the stores. Before the Main St. property owners can dedicate X number of feet of their property to the village for a parking lot, additional land must be purchased from these nine property owners whose land lies adjacent to the new village street.

Committee Starts Johnny Torri Fund

By Lil Birdsell

A committee of four good-hearted helping hands, Irma Jean Amstutz, Iris Dörner, Winsor Dalgard and Rosalie Stiles, all of Lake Villa, are out on a Johnny Torri Fund Drive.

Johnny Torri is an 11-year-old boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Torri of Lake Villa, who was accidentally shot in the face by his older brother while playing. Plastic surgery is needed to repair Johnny's face. He has already spent many days in the hospital, and has many more remaining days to spend there.

Although Johnny is in school at the present time, he is to return to the hospital next month for more surgery. Mrs. Torri works at Regal China and Mr. Torri is a farmer. Expenses of this type can become unbearable, especially when there is no insurance.

That's where our good-hearted group comes in because they are out doing every thing humanly possible to raise money to help pay for Johnny's much needed surgery. They ask anyone who wishes to help this little boy to send whatever donations they can to the Johnny Torri Fund, P. O. Box 176, Lake Villa, Illinois.

Name Chairman of 1965 Heart Fund

Warren A. Logelin, a suburban Cook County resident and Chicago executive, has been named general chairman of the 1965 Heart Fund campaign.

The appointment was announced by Louis DeBoer, executive director of the Chicago Heart Association, the voluntary health agency that conducts the campaign each February in Cook, Lake and DuPage counties.

Logelin was general chairman of the 1964 Heart Fund.

Logelin has devoted much time to the Chicago Heart Association. Besides his work in last year's campaign, he has been a member of the Association's public relations advisory committee, the public education program committee, and chairman of the Industry Communications sub-committee.

New Well For Village In Works

A skeleton village board carried on the business of the village Tuesday night. Mayor Murrill Cunningham was ill at home, Einar Petersen was on vacation and Ray Toft was attending a Little League banquet.

Ernest Glenn was elected to serve as mayor pro tem in the mayor's absence.

Bids for a six-inch test hole for a new well were opened. J. P. Miller Artesian Well Co., Brookfield, submitted a bid of $500.00; Layne Western of Aurora bid $360.00. The test hole is to be 150 feet deep.

The bids were referred to committee for study, with a special board meeting to be held within a week.

Ray Toft had to be called to the meeting to make up a five-man majority necessary to pass an ordinance calling for bids on a 90-year lease on the 40' foot by 170' foot strip of land adjacent to the new Orchard St. plaza.

Agreement to lease the property, with several provisions, to owners of the plaza had been reached at a previous meeting. Attorney Edward Jacobs reported that the property would have to be advertised for bids. The legal notice is elsewhere in this paper. Bids will be opened on October 20.

Dr. George Jensen was at the meeting to protest the condition in which the southeast corner of Rt. 83 and 173 was left by sewer contractors. The board promised to contact Till Co. and restore the corner to its former condition.

Roger Williams reported that a meeting of a committee of village board members, Father Henderson, Father Hanley, Ernie Westlund and Richard Burnette had reached a compromise agreement on controlling traffic of St. Peter's, Elizabeth and Henry Streets.

The board approved a motion to establish one-way traffic on the three streets. Ernest Westlund requested that in the ordinance a provision be made that the streets could not be blocked.

Attorney Jacobs said the provision was superfluous, because no thoroughfare could be blocked. Westlund protested that it had been in the past. Jacobs replied that this was a question of enforcement, not the need for an ordinance.

After a lengthy discussion, Ernest Glenn and David Nissen suggested that property owners give the new ordinance a trial period, and promised the cooperation of the board in seeing that traffic laws were enforced.

A committee of Lions Club members, Dr. George Jensen, Thomas Haviland and Maynard Schneider, asked the permission and cooperation of the board in planting some trees in the village park near the swimming pool area. Haviland said most of the trees in the area had been lost to Dutch elm disease.

Dr. Jensen recommended that hard maple trees be planted. Irving Walsh was appointed to investigate the cost of purchasing some trees for the area.

A request by Quaker Industries for permission to construct a building addition, which would violate setback requirements in the village was turned down by the board.

Roger Williams, chairman of the street committee, reported that the agent for the Cosgrove building on Lake St. had asked that one parking meter be removed near the driveway to the building, so that cars could enter the driveway and park behind the building. He said there would be space for 12 cars to park in the rear of the building. The board approved a motion to remove the meter.

Irving Walsh submitted two bids on a new roof for the fire department. The board accepted the bid of Ace Roofing of Antioch for $695.00. A bid from Libertyville Roofing of $635.00 was also submitted.

Shelving Price Fix Charged In Suit

Antioch Community High School is one of the schools which had purchased steel shelving on which Illinois Attorney General William Clark has charged several companies with "price-fixing."

Clark recently recovered about $600,000 for several Illinois schools in a similar case charging price-fixing on portable bleachers. Antioch High School was not involved in that case.

The present charge is against seven manufacturers of metal shelving who were accused of submitting non-competitive, collusive and rigged bids and price quotations to public and governmental agencies, school districts, libraries and universities.

Clark charges damages in an amount in excess of $600,000 above the amount that they would have paid in the absence of a conspiracy. The suit asks treble damages.

Superintendent Albert Dittman said the purchase made by Antioch High School was

Help Repeal A Tax

What have you bought lately that had an excise tax tacked on to the price? An alarm clock? A handbag? Cosmetics, perhaps?

Presumably, these taxes were tacked on in wartime because these things were rated as luxuries. Just how anyone could figure that an alarm clock is a luxury is somewhat of a mystery.

However, luxury or not, the tax was meant to be a temporary one. Like most taxes, nothing has been done to remove it.

Retailers, who bear the brunt of the shocked complaints of customers when they see the tax added to the purchase price of something they consider a necessary item, have worked on getting the law repealed without success. As usual, the American public complains and forgets.

It's too bad that the public doesn't realize its power. If one out of every ten citizens in the U.S. wrote to his respective congressman complaining about things of this sort, action would be speedy.

This time, maybe we'll get action without the letter-writing. There are whispers that the excise tax may be repealed, thanks to the fact that this is an election year. If you want to make sure it is, write to your Congressman.

A Health Dept. Warning

"X-33" is in the news again.

X-33, designed to waterproof masonry, made the newspapers last year when it was discovered that the product was so flammable that it took little more than a spark from an angry eye to set off a tremendous blast.

A couple of people who undertook to use the stuff died as the result of burns. At that time the Food & Drug Administration ordered it removed from the market.

Now it seems that some stores still have the product in stock. The manufacturer, the Wilmington Corporation of Chicago, says it's financially unable to recall all of the product.

Dr. Baker, Lake County Health Dept., and the FDA warn against use of "X-33". They further warn that anyone attempting to get rid of a stock of the product should consult with their local fire department or Health Dept. before attempting to dispose of it.

Courthouse Notebook

BY LOU DURKIN

The Public Works Department has won the first round of its battle with the Lake County Water District to see which public body will provide sewer and water service for unincorporated areas of Lake County.

The County Board last week approved the purchase of an existing sewage disposal plant in Countryside Manor, northeast of Libertyville and also the acquisition of the subdivision's water facilities.

The Public Works Department will operate and maintain the new acquisition and thus gets the jump on the older Water District in its utilities fight.

Being a normally peaceful type we shudder at the thought of the fight that is sure to develop when somebody suggests, as they are sure to do, that the Water District be dissolved and its facilities and customers be turned over to the new county office.

No matter how much you may disagree with the opponents to the construction of a new county building on the present courthouse site you have to admire their persistence and the ability of Atty. Paul Hamer to find new arguments with which to prolong the litigation blocking construction of the building.

It's unfortunate that the question can't be decided on the basis of need for a new building and new facilities for the conduct of county business.

While there is no guarantee that a new courthouse would have prevented the tally tampering in the Republican primary last spring it is reasonable to suppose that adequate space would make the operation of the county offices more efficient.

It's rather difficult now to recall just what the basic objections are to the building since the original arguments have been lost in a landslide of motions, protests, counter motions and cross complaints in the courts.

We can't shake the feeling that a victory for the opponents to the courthouse would be more than a defeat for the people of Lake County, for efficient operation of the business of county government, and for common sense in the conduct of county business.

It almost certainly won't come to pass, but watch for the Democratic candidates for the Illinois House of Representatives to issue a "debate challenge" to their five Republican counterparts.

The Democrats are offering a trio of Lake County attorneys as their legislative candidates in William Hartnett, of Grayslake and Howard Slater and Daniel Pierce of Highland Park, which would probably give them an

Your Congressman

Reports

By Cong. Robert McClary

In view of the protracted and continuing sessions of the Congress, these reports from Washington will be resumed until the end of the 88th Congress.

After many hours of debate, the U.S. House of Representatives last week authorized a three-year extension of P.L. 480. This is the law under which we sell surplus agricultural products abroad at bargain prices—and receive payment in local currencies. The local currencies are not convertible into dollars and consequently must be spent for some U.S. purpose within the countries involved. The bill (H.R. 12298) passed by the House contained provisions for wider use of these P.L. 480 funds—including educational uses.

One big dispute in the Congress over this legislation appears to be philosophical. Under existing law, P.L. 480 funds accumulate, and are then expended abroad as the Executive decides. While such expenditures must be within the broad limits of Congressional authority, there is no need to secure specific appropriations—as in the case of other Federal expenditures.

Representatives Paul Findley of Illinois, a Republican, and John Rooney of New York, a Democrat, led the fight to require that all P.L. 480 funds shall be subject to appropriation by the Congress—in the future. The fight succeeded during general debate, which caused a hurried postponement of final action on the bill. When the House resumed consideration, the Administration forces had succeeded in coralling sufficient votes to defeat this attempt at Congressional supervision of P.L. 480 expenditures. Perhaps it should be added that the debate which occurred was much more than a philosophical one. Much extravagance and waste in the use of these P.L. 480 funds have been disclosed in the past. The tighter rein which would result from subjecting these expenditures to the appropriations process would have a most salutary result.

It may be generally considered that the contest between the Executive and the Congress on this subject will be won eventually by the Congress. In this connection, it might be well to consider again that control of the revenues and expenditures is vested Constitutionally in the legislative branch—the Congress of the United States.

As an incumbent legislator John Conolly would probably be able to hold his own with the legal eagles, and Francis Berry, of Libertyville, could utilize his experience as Mayor of Libertyville in questions of municipal needs, but there the advantage would probably end.

Aware that the GOP candidates probably wouldn't accept a challenge issued by the Democrats, Hartnett and his fellow candidates will probably arrange for the debate invitation to be issued by some "non-partisan" group such as the League of Women Voters.

Republican candidates will be nothing if not busy on Sunday when three separate functions in scattered areas of the county are slated. John Henry Altorf, GOP candidate for Lieutenant Governor, will be the key speaker at Farman's Beach, Wauconda, at an outing sponsored jointly by the Wauconda and Warren Township Clubs.

Ela Township Republicans will sponsor a candidates' rally at Pleasant Acres on the north side of Lake Zurich starting at noon Sunday and Benton Township Republicans will have a kiddie jamboree at Van Patten Woods featuring pony rides, ice cream, and watermelon.

Do you, too, detect a slight lack of coordination in GOP campaign efforts?

ALONG THE WAY with Annie Mae

Feel that nippy tang of autumn these last few days? Somehow that haughty lady of magnificent natural splendor casts a spell over all of use when she appears and we become entranced into believing she will stay forever.

THE LATEST REPORT: Work is visibly progressing on the new A. & P. site now, but I would think that an Oct. 1st date is a little wishful thinking. . . . did my hurried eyes deceive me, or is that another building being formed nearby?

Bob and Shirley Jensen made a sorrowful trip to Minnesota last week to attend the funeral of Bob's mother. Our condolences, kids, . . . may we extend our sympathy to the family of Ray Lorenz, who became one of the greatest restaurateurs in the Lake Region. . . . Do you know how I can tell the new cars are about to appear again? All the dealers start calling me by my first name and shaking their heads sadly as I drive by.

NOTES TO YOU: Only Herb Horton could take a lady's slap in the face and keep right on smiling! It's O.K. Flo, we knew all the time it was just in fun, but couldn't resist the temptation to tease a little. . . . That charming gal Friday at the Advertiser, named Kay, up and quit and took on the Monday (Sun) Sunday job of being Mrs. Phillips. . . . Incidentally, Happy birthday Tobey, O' Boy!

THE LAST DROP: Peg Webb still under "observation" at St. Therese Hospital. Now Edgar Simonsen jets to every fire! Wonder how many "little red wagons" in a light spot with the night spots finds that time lays heavy on his hands. . . . Last week two Chi Newspapers commented on the Univ. of Illinois Prof. who is a "part time garbage man."

Shucks, that's nothing. We boast a full time garbage man who's a part time Mayor, and proud of it!

DID YOU HEAR: The person who has everything should be quarantined.

It's not too often that local residents get their names in Time Magazine, but it's happened.

Norman Heyne, Sr., who has had a home at Channel Lake for 23 years, made the September 11 issue of Time Magazine (page 88).

The news article in which Mr. Heyne's name—or rather, the name of his business—appears, is concerned with the hiring of advertising agencies by political VIP's to keep their names before the public.

The firm of Kennedy & Heyne represents Governor Otto Kerner in the advertising whirl.

SEE THE FLOWERS YOU SEND BY WIRE

Maybe you've heard about it—I hadn't. Did you know you can now see the flowers you order by wire?

Bob Willett, of Floral Acres, says the service has been available for a year, at all florists who are members of FTD.

They have a little booklet, which you can pick up at the florist's (providing he belongs to FTD). It has pictures of floral pieces, bouquets and even plants that you can order by wire.

Say, you order 11-19 from Floral Acres. You want it delivered to someone in Kokomo. So Bob orders 11-19 from a florist in Kokomo, and the person who receives the flowers gets exactly what you ordered.

And, he added, the florist in Kokomo had better deliver exactly what you ordered, or he'll get kicked out of the FTD. And I gathered that as bad as a Mississippi gotting kicked out of the Ku Klux Klan.

Each florist has instructions on how to make up the floral pieces, so they'll all be the same. There's a new book with new designs every year.

So while I had Bob on the phone, I asked him how deep the present trend toward donations to Memorial Funds in place of flowers was cutting into the florists' business. It isn't helping, he conceded.

However, Bob says, the best guarantee of continued business for the florist is satisfied customers. And a few clergymen recently have spoken out in defense of flowers for funerals. They've pointed out that the mourners are sometimes shocked by the barrenness of funerals without flowers.

DARKNESS DOUBLES TRAFFIC TROUBLES

When driving at night in October weather, remember that weather and darkness are a deadly combination. Pull out of side streets and parking spaces very cautiously. Stay alert, yield right of way and expect uncertain behavior. Remember, darkness doubles traffic troubles.

Asked by TV commentators why we chose only certain companies, I replied that we didn't choose them . . . they chose themselves. My office consistently proceeds against merchants who have conducted their business in such a way that they become suspect by consumers who complain either to us or to their local better business bureau or chamber of commerce.

In all instances of consumer fraud, my office is reluctant to proceed against the "pattern fraudulent operators" inasmuch as the public tends to indict by association the legitimate merchants in the same field.

The only exercise some people get is jumping at conclusions, sidestepping responsibility and pushing their luck.—Sawyer County Gazette.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

A friend of mine has characterized our time as "the age of the shoddy." She was speaking of the expensive dress whose seams split on the second wearing, the deep-pile rug whose pile disappears in the sweeper, the glittering automobile with its hosts of defects under the hood, the "dream house" with its nightmare of sagging roof, porous walls and the mortgage that outlives the habitation. She was talking of material things, but had she been with me yesterday, Sept. 8, County Board room, 3rd floor, courthouse, she would have enlarged the scope of "the age of the shoddy" to include the government we've bought and paid for. Had a six year old in a first grade classroom behaved as these paid officials behaved, he would have been spanked soundly and returned to his seat.

I suggest that voters who have Township Supervisors up for election next April,

Dr. SIMS says . . . SAFEGUARD YOUR HEALTH

A PUBLIC SERVICE OF THE ILLINOIS STATE MEDICAL SOCIETY

THE STUTTERING CHILD Don't teach your child to stutter! This may sound like foolish advice, yet many parents—because of lack of understanding—are directly responsible for the development of such speech defects in their children.

In an attempt to "help" the child, well-meaning parents sometimes hurry him to complete a sentence or—mistake natural speech hesitation for a defect—supply him with the words to complete his thought. This so-called "help" may cause the child to become emotionally confused, resulting in habitual stuttering.

What can parents do if their child already stutters? Since emotional confusion is only one of many causes of stuttering, parents should have the child undergo a careful examination to rule out any physical malformation of the jaw, larynx, tongue, palate or nasal passageways. If these organs are normal, an examination should be made for nutritional disorders and treat themselves to one performance of this comedy troupe and then get busy and start looking for replacements in the east.

September Song Wafts Percy Along Campaign Trail

The tune to "Charles H. Percy's "September Song" will be wafted along a campaign trail that will take him the length and breadth of Illinois.

Its melody will drift into picnics, reunions, county fairs, a grape festival, fund-raising dinners, the Hamletonian, and into gatherings of various ethnic groups. What's important are the lyrics. They will change to suit the tenor of the campaign, the day, the place, the occasion. And there will be few lullabies.

The waltzing started Tuesday, Sept. 1, with a reception and dinner in Carbondale. Objective: fund-raising for the 21st Congressional District, which includes the 18 southernmost counties in Illinois.

The next day found Percy, as Republican gubernatorial candidate, campaigning at the Hamletonian in DuQuoin State Fair. He visited Illinois threshermen on Thursday as he attended their reunion in Pontiac in Livingston county, not far from where Percy himself worked on a farm as a youth.

A highlight of his September schedule was attendance at an Illinois County Chairmen's Association meeting on Friday, Sept. 4, at the Leland Hotel in Springfield.

Couples To Get Marriage Advice

By Mrs. Bernice Bernau

Father David J. Lynch, pastor of Prince of Peace Church in Lake Villa, announces a Cana Conference on the husband-wife relationship to be held at the church hall on route 21-83, one block south of route 132 in Lake Villa, on Sunday, September 27, from 1:00 p.m. until 5:30 p.m.

"The best way to prevent troubled marriages and ultimately broken homes is to encourage couples in good marriages to understand the dynamics and the rich resources of Christian matrimony and thus deepen the bond of love in the home," says Father Lynch. "This is the purpose of our Cana Conference," he continued. "It gives couples an opportunity to learn about and to discuss every facet of their vocation from the very practical money and baby problems, to the realms of conjugal spirituality."

The husband-wife conference is open to all couples in the area. It is conducted by an experienced priest trained in family life education. The Holy Name Society is sponsoring the Conference.

back and forth. Sure hope she will be moving under her own steam pretty soon. Sadly, I report the passing of Herman Walter's father, who resided in Des Plaines. He passed away last Sunday after having been hospitalized at Illinois Veterans hospital.

Saturday, Sept. 12, Lake Region Post 703 held joint public installation of officers. They were honored by being the only post in Lake County to have Dept. of Illinois Commander James O. Fenks, as their installing officer, and Mrs. Dorn, Tenth District Director as installing officer for the Auxiliary. The following elected officers are from our subdivision: Byron L. Strand, senior vice-commander; Arthur W. Bywell, membership adjutant; Martin C. Pingel, assistant sergeant-at-arms. In the Auxiliary, Lois Strand is the new First vice president and Ellen Bywell the recording secretary. Have noticed lately a great improvement in the appearance of Piper Lane. So many of the till now vacant homes have been taken over by people who really care! It sure makes us old residents feel good seeing this.

Announce Lake Co. Percy Chairmen

CHICAGO—Gordon Smith, 2 Ahwahnee Lane, Lake Forest, and Billy Ellis, 309 N. King Muir Road, Lake Forest, have been appointed Citizens for Percy Co-chairmen in Lake County, according to Thomas J. Houser, campaign manager for Charles H. Percy, Republican gubernatorial candidate.

The Citizens for Percy groups will supplement and strengthen the activities of the Regular Republican Organizations throughout Illinois. In addition they will play a major role in Chuck Percy's campaign for governor.

"Take Me Out To The Ball Game—"

The Antioch Darts, girls softball team, challenged their sponsors to a ball game recently.

When Mom goes out to play ball, a goodly share of the young fry tag along and join the spectators. We took a few pictures of the young ball fans on this particular Sunday.

Most of the sponsors "chickened out." However, men were present to represent the Antioch Bowl, Laurson and Blackman, and Dick's Sinclair.

Enough husbands were pressed into service to make up a team, and the ball game proceeded. A real pitcher's duel—"We won," said Margo Christensen. "I think the score was 30 to 10, or something like that."

Anyway, everyone had fun, including the young spectators.

MOM'S BAT IS A BIT HEAVY, but one of these days they'll be in there swinging.

OUTFIELDER ON THE GIRL'S TEAM was Dorothy Ballwanz, Elaine Gallagher, Lynn Fox and Judy Dypert. The men, Joe Christensen, Glenn Fox, Bill Kohl, Roy Ballwanz and Don Blackman.

Illinois law says headlights should be dimmed within 350 feet of an approaching vehicle. Bright lights can create a traffic hazard. Don't jeopardize the safety of yourself or others. Dim your lights for other vehicles.

Wife to flabbergasted husband, as she came home loaded with packages: "The president said the tax cut was to get people buying and make the country strong. What are you? A Communist or something?"

The Antioch Moose Lodge played the Crystal Lake Moose last Sunday and won 2-

"PHOOIE! A pop-up." Ball games are fascinating, when Mom's playing.

NOTHING like a nice cool bottle while watching the play.

"We can't tell if Mom's winning or losing, but there's a nice breeze up here."

SPEAKING TO YOU

By John Burlend

Director of Social Studies, Rockford East High School

Two months ago when I signed off for the summer, I was highly enthusiastic about travel by freighter. I still am, but would sound a few warnings. First, seven weeks on board ship is a long time, too long if it is powered by engines that set up a constant vibration that finally affects your stomach. Second, you need to remember that a freighter follows the freight and that passengers are secondary. We did visit ports that we had hoped to visit.

Aside from that, the trip was wonderful. We were on a Danish ship and that in itself tells you all you need to know about the food. It was excellent, it was abundant, it was well and tastefully served. The accommodations were first class and clean. We were fortunate in the passengers on board: an Egyptian exchange professor returning from a year at the University of Maryland, two colored school teachers from Detroit, the widow of a British ambassador in the Near East, a Swiss returning to the U. S. because his retirement funds would stretch further here, and for a short time, three Danish girls on vacation. They were an interesting and congenial group.

We saw things that I never expected to see: shepherds tending their flocks in the afternoon in the garb of Biblical days, threshing floors where a donkey made an endless circle pounding out the grain, bullocks attached to the lever of a waterwheel, a tractor plowing on one side of the road, a camel performing the same task in the next field.

We formed some of the usual tourist prejudices. We were annoyed in Egypt because the government rigged the currency exchange so that we were over-charged for Egyptian money by about 40%. Our Egyptian professor had warned us that they were very strict on currency exchange, and that punishment for violations was severe. We discovered afterward that you could exchange money in any store or on the street by vendors at 40% advantage and no danger. I feel that I am supporting about 50 Egyptian soldiers in Yemen this summer.

The antiquities of Egypt are tremendous. The King Tut collection in the Museum of Antiquities is available for about two cents per person. We could visit the pyramids at Memphis by cab for little more than the cost of a taxi ride across Rockford. The sound and light program in front of the Sphinx by moonlight is one of the most thrilling experiences that I have ever had. These are the things that I would not miss for twice the cost, but I would gladly forget the whining camel driver begging for basheesh, the haggling over every purchase, the waiter who fails to return your change.

The traveler stores up memories for the long gray days of winter, but he puts up with discomfort and inconvenience. These we can soon forget, but never will I forget dinner under the stars at Chitauri, halfway between Beirut and Damascus, where we were served 29 dishes as hors d'oeuvres. (I counted them) with delicacies never encountered before and I am sure never again; so that when the main meal was served I could only nibble; total cost including tip: $2.50. Nor will I forget the beautiful blue Mediterranean at Beirut, or changing motor taxis after midnight in the harbour, to the quarrels of rival boatmen.

It is a pleasant way to travel to take a plane and go directly to the nearest Hilton hotel, but you miss the flavor of the country just as you miss the flavor of the U. S. by staying at the Waldorf Towers and getting no further afield than Saks Fifth Avenue. A ride from Beirut to Damascus, from Alexandria to Cairo gave a picture of life in the Nile valley, in the hills of Lebanon that no book quite captures. The poverty of Egypt, for example, can only be witnessed; words are inadequate. Whole families live in a one room mud hut without windows or doors, holes in the wall serve that purpose and no more furniture than can be placed on a wheelbarrow. Then visit the palace of King Farouk and you understand why the peasant went without.

It's over now and we have

Lions Candy Day

Governor Otto Kerner of Illinois has proclaimed October 4th to 10th as "Lions Week for the Visually Handicapped" in Illinois. In his proclamation Governor Kerner stated that the week will be highlighted on Lions CANDY DAY for the BLIND, Friday, October 9, conducted by the 560 Lions Clubs of the State. Governor Kerner said in his proclamation: "This vital work is an outstanding project of the 25,000 Lions of Illinois, and is considered worthy of official sanction."

CANDY DAY contributions go to support Hadley School for the Blind, where the sightless are taught through braille and recorded correspondence high school and college courses, and to Leader Dog School where blind men and women are furnished guide dogs and training of dog and master.

These services are provided at no cost to the blind. Lions Candy Day provides blind persons with education and mobility, opens job opportunities and makes possible their independence.

Thousands of Lions, their wives and volunteers throughout the entire state will be wearing the familiar yellow caps and offering candy rolls for this worth-while cause. More than 550 Lions Clubs will participate.

returned to face the political wars of the American election. Yet before we plunge into the melee, I want to devote one more column to some observations on people and opinions that we met. Next week we will take one other look at the Mediterranean in 1964.

Four Calif. Plants Locate in Illinois

Teamwork by a group of Illinois state officials and business executives was credited with attracting four California companies to Illinois within the last 17 months.

"This is quite an accomplishment," said Gene Graves, executive of the Illinois Board of Economic Development. "In a report to Gov. Kerner, Graves said that a 'Sell Illinois' visit to 30 California companies made in March 1963 by 15 industrial development professionals representing the Illinois Board of Economic Development, has resulted in the location of four major plants in Illinois."

"These four plants alone," said Graves, "represent approximately $6 million in plant and equipment investments and 835 new jobs for Illinois workers."

Graves made the report following an announcement on August 31, by Capitol Records, Inc., to build a $2-million manufacturing plant in Jacksonville. Ampex Company at Elk Grove Village, Litton Industries at Des Plaines, and the Gaylord Container Division of Crown-Zellerbach at Carol Stream have all located here since March of last year.

Civic League Eyes Courthouse Plans

The Lake County Civic League has advised a "go slow" attitude on the construction of a separate county office building at Libertyville.

There have been indications from members of the county board that plans for the auxiliary County Building may include construction of the main jail in Libertyville. The present jail in Waukegan would then only retain a few detention cells for prisoners being processed through the courts.

Elmer W. Freytag, president of the Civic League, called attention to the experience in DuPage county, where operational costs of offices separated from the main county building are double the costs in the main building.

"Consensus in the Civic League," said President Freytag, "is that while service to Lake County citizens may be improved by locating such offices as the county veterinarian in mid-county, the county board should consider very carefully any plan to erect a building away from the county seat and move in county departments that can be operated more efficiently and economically in the main county building."

Sequoit Gridders Open Season Sat.

The Antioch Sequoits open their 1964 gridiron season at home Saturday at 12:30 when they take the field against the Falcons from Salem Central.

Coach Roy Nelson was pleased with his squad's performance in their first scrimmage last Saturday. "I liked the way Wally Henning handled the team from his quarterback spot," Nelson said, "and was also impressed with the running of Tom Morgan."

"The scrimmage was officiated and run under game conditions. Bernie Smith did a good job at offensive end and Paul Williams and Bill Meyer were impressive on defense," Nelson added. "We worked for over two hours," Nelson said, "and I was well satisfied with the boys."

The Falcons lost their opener last Friday to Elkhorn 26 to 13. Although the Sequoits will have the home field advantage, Salem will be out to avenge last year's loss. The Sequoits scored on the first play of the game last year and managed to edge the Falcons 7 to 0. Saturday's contest will be the second time the two schools have met in football competition.

"They are a scrappy outfit," Coach Nelson said after scouting Salem's game at Elkhorn. "This Joe Flaschner, a 195 pound fullback and Jack Schafer at halfback, will pose two real running threats," he added.

"They have a very fine end in Don Farm, a 6'2" boy, and I was impressed with the defensive play of their middle linebacker, Guy Flaschner."

The probable lineup for the Sequoits will see Bernie Smith and either Terry Schneider or Mike Sterbenz at ends, Rich Mason and Bob Flood at the tackles, Ed Westberg and either Bill Meyer or Ken White at the guards and Stan Revell at center.

In the backfield it will be Wally Henning at quarterback, Paul Lindblad and Tom Morgan at the halfbacks and Vince Casella at fullback.

The Sequoits will swing into conference competition following Salem's game. They will meet Grayslake, Lake Forest and Grant on successive weekends.

Tips From The Tackle Box

By B. F. Gladding

HOT WEATHER TACTICS

One of the slickest ways to fool fussy fish in hot weather is to rig up for dry fly fishing with the tiniest flies—then use very small natural baits. A fly rod, matching Aerofloat tapered line, knotless tapered leader of Gladding Platyl and some No. 14 hooks add up to an outfit that will put fish in the reel.

Whenever you can get them, use caddis fly larvae. You'll find them clinging to rocks in streams, where they look like sunken bits of twigs. Strip off the wooden case, and each "stick" will hold a tiny, whitish larva. Thread this carefully on the tiny hook, and you have one of the deadliest baits you can drift through a pool.

If you can't find caddis larvae, turn over sunken rocks and use any live nymphs you find clinging to the under side. Lacking even these, pinch the tail from a common angleworm—just a dab—and bury the No. 14 hook in it.

The trick is to fish these tidbits with a natural drift. Use no sinker, and cast upstream. Let the bait drift back toward you on a slack line. In ponds and lakes, let the bait settle and then inch it in ever so slowly with a hand twist retrieve.

Why so dainty? Because you can't fish large offerings convincingly in the low, clear water of late summer. Fish spook at the first splash, which usually means with your first cast. But with tapered line, tapered leader and tiny hook you can tempt them with items that create no more disturbance than a drifting leaf. It's delicate work, all the way, but it will take fish when the fishing is supposedly dead.

Surprisingly large fish will snap up these tiny baits, so strike gently and play fish with a light hand. It takes skill to land them on such light tackle—but that only adds to the fun.

After-School League For Junior Bowlers

Registrations are open at the Antioch Bowl this week and next for an after-school league for junior bowlers. The day and time of the league has not yet been definitely set yet.

Golf

By Dan Coleman, Head Pro Midlane Farm Country Club Wadsworth, Illinois

PUTTING

In putting, all golfers can meet on common ground. There is no excuse for a poor putter because anyone can practice the relatively simple position and movements of putting almost anywhere. Most people pay too much attention to the glamour and satisfaction of good wood shots and, therefore, tend to ignore the importance of good putting. Actually, the best tee or fairway shot will be completely nullified by one poor putt. Remember that in the course of one round of golf, you use your putter THREE TIMES AS OFTEN AS any other club in the bag!

In putting, the ball should be played neither forward nor back but from a point midway between the feet. The knees are bent forward more in putting than in any other shot—and you must bend forward from the small of the back, until your eyes are directly above the ball. The elbows should be bent outward. The sum total is a "sitting position"; you are completely relaxed and in complete control.

In making the putting stroke, the body itself remains in a "still" position, with all movement centering in the hands, wrists and forearms. The "feel" of good putting comes through the fingers. During the entire stroke the face of the club should face the target and the clubhead should travel close to the ground.

SELECTION OF CLUBS

The number of clubs that any player should carry depends on his ability to use them. For a beginner, I recommend a brassie and spoon for the woods, and the numbers 2, 5 and 9 irons—and a putter. When you become familiar with each in this basic set, you may add to them.

There are several important considerations in choosing golf clubs. First, if at all possible, the irons should be part of a matched set. Not because they make a more impressive display in your bag but because there is a very definite advantage in using matched clubs. Each club with the same balance and "feel" so that playing the 2 or 7 iron would feel approximately the same to you.

Last, and most important of all, the clubs should be fitted to YOU by a competent golf professional. This is not a commercial plug for anyone, but merely a statement of fact. Only a recognized professional can advise you about what type of clubs you should use. His advice will be based on your physical characteristics, your height, weight, length of arms and legs—and, most important, on your own particular type of swing.

It is a combination of such factors that your golf professional looks for in deciding what clubs would be best for you and you should avail yourself of his special knowledge to add to your future satisfaction and enjoyment of the game.

A $3.5 million facility for study and treatment of emotionally disturbed and mentally retarded children will be constructed at University of Illinois.

Reimer Takes Feature At Speedway

Starting near the back of the pack, Reimer pushed the A3 around the outside groove to win at Waukegan Speedway Sunday night, with Ken Tulagan in the Twenty Bird right on his tail for second place. Third place went to Roger Otto and fourth place to Chuck Uttech, two of the up and coming drivers of this season.

Heat race winners were: 1st Bob Anzinger; 2nd Stevens; 3rd Tulagan; Semi, Bob Anzinger.

This marks the first time Bob Anzinger has won a heat race at the Waukegan Speedway. He came right back and won the Semi-Feature.

Sportsman's Feature winner was Ray Dixon of Gurnee; second place, Jim Cossman of Waukegan and third place was Jack Ester of Waukegan.

Heat races of the Sportsman were won by Roger Hagl of Lake Villa and Ray Dixon of Gurnee.

Next, Saturday night another first at the New Waukegan Speedway—Late Model Convertibles—1960-64 — also the Sportsman will race and a Powder Puff race. Sunday night there will be a 50 lap Modified race and Late Model Sportsmen.

Scouts Plan Drive For Members

The Organization and Extension Committee of the North Shore Area Council, Boy Scouts of America, conducted a training program, Saturday morning, September 12, at the Scout Service Center, in Glencoe.

This meeting marks the start of an extensive effort to make Scouting available to more of the boys in all areas. The function of the Organization and Extension Committee is to organize and establish new scouting units at all levels.

This is a more complex procedure than meets the eye, thus the training program. Different methods of making contact with institutions were presented and discussed.

Church, civic and veteran organizations are all potential sponsors for scout units. Many of these groups are presently sponsoring one or more units, many more wish to be sponsors. The Organization and Extension Committee must meet with these organizations to determine their desires and to establish where possible new scout units, thereby extending the program of Scouting to more boys.

Other phases of the training program included, the ten step program of unit organization, film presentation on establishing the Scouting partnership, and an extensive question and answer period. Karl Trukenbrod, chairman of the North Shore Area Council Organization and Extension Committee, adjourned the meeting on a note of new enthusiasm and confidence, knowing that all committeemen are now better equipped and qualified to function at their best.

A council-wide fall "Frontier Roundup" is now in full swing. At this time of the year more boys will join

Schools Get Refund On Bleachers

Seventy-four Illinois school districts will receive shares of the $275,000.00 refund won for them by Attorney General William G. Clark in his price fixing case against six manufacturers of folding gymnasium bleachers.

The total settlement, according to Clark, amounted to $575,000.00. $300,000.00 has already been distributed.

The price-fixing conspiracy was uncovered by Clark in 1962. In February of that year he filed suit under the Federal Anti-Trust Act to recover damages for the schools.

Clark said that representatives of the six major manufacturers of folding gymnasium bleachers met periodically in a hotel room in Chicago from 1954 through 1958. At these meetings, the companies estimated the total amount of business to be done that year in the sale of the bleachers, established prices and allocated the amount of business each would receive that year. They then bid collusively.

The companies involved were the Wayne Iron Works, Wayne, Pa.; Universal Bleacher Co., Champaign, Ill.; Safeway Steel Products, Inc., Milwaukee and Consolidated Foundries and Manufacturing Corp., Berlin, Wis.; The Brunswick Corp. of Chicago and the Medart Co. of St. Louis, Mo.

Be careful when passing at night. It is difficult to judge speed and distance after dark. Keep your headlights in good order. You need the best possible light for passing.

scouting than at any other. All boys in the area are invited to participate in Boy Scouting. A special "Frontier Roundup" patch has been designed and made available to every Cub Scout, Boy Scout and Explorer who recruits a new member between Sept. 1 and Dec. 31.

Attention is called to the fact that a Cub and Scout Leaders Round Table will be held at 8 p.m. at Grayslake Grade School for all units in the Northwest district.

Channel Lake News

By Louise Gutowski
395-1317

Channel Lake School opened its door last week with an enrollment of 135 students and two new teachers. The teachers are Mrs. Ann Sexton of Twin Lakes, Wis., who is teaching third and fourth grades and Miss Olive Dobson who will teach music one day a week.

The Channel Lake PTA met in the school gym, Wednesday, September 15, for the first meeting of the school term. An open house was held giving the parents the opportunity of meeting the teachers and visiting the classrooms. The PTA meets at the school every third Wednesday of the month and parents are urged to attend.

Non-registered voters and new residents of Channel Lake are urged to register at the school gym Saturday, September 19th from noon until 9 p.m. Would-be voters must be 21 years old, have lived in the state 1 year, the county 90 days and the precinct 30 days, and be a citizen of the United States.

The Channel Lake Community Club will hold a Hayride and Doo Social Saturday, September 19. Couples are to meet at the school at 8:30 p.m. and girls, be sure to bring a box luncheon along.

The Community Club is also planning their annual Halloween dance, Saturday, October 31. It will be held at the American Legion Home in Antioch. There will be dancing to the music of the Rhythm Kings, and refreshments will be available. Costumes are optional. Be sure to mark this date in your date book as this event always proves to be a lot of fun. The club meets the second Tuesday every month and needs your cooperation and membership, as it supports the scouting groups in our community. Without the club the Girl and Boy Scouts, Brownies and Cub Scout groups would have no sponsorship. Come on out to the meetings and lend a hand with your ideas.

Beach Grove News

By Del Jahneke

Mr. and Mrs. Al Sodman, Beach Grove, are the proud new grandparents of a baby boy, born to their daughter, Elaine and her husband (Mr. and Mrs. Robert) Shen of Gurnee) on August 28. Young Robert Troy Shen weighed in a 7 lbs., 15 oz. at Victory Memorial Hospital. His paternal grandmother is Mrs. Robert Shen, Sr., of Waukegan.

A/3 Dan Geler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Geler, Beach Grove, is home on leave from the Air Force until September 20. At that time, he must report to the Truck Air Force Base at Madison, Wis., where he will be stationed for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Jahneke, Beach Grove, were guests of the Lt. Pony Griggs family, at a Beach Party held at the Officers' Beach Pavilion, at the Great Lakes Naval Training Station. Since the Griggs' oldest daughter, Carmella, will be entering college soon, this party was held in her honor.

The Ray Rathmann family, Oakwood Knolls, have just returned from a three week camping trip, where they did their camping out in a tent, and reported they all thoroughly enjoyed this new experience. They first visited Mr. and Mrs. Eric Larson, formerly of Deep Lake, in Phoenix, Arizona. From there, they traveled to Los Angeles, Cal., and seeing Disneyland, Marineland, and Yosemite National Park, all added to their pleasure. Their last camping stop was of several days duration in the Black Hills, where they did considerable exploring and hiking.

Lyons in Fox Lake Hills. The people were from their pinocchio club and Masters and Mates of the Methodist Community Church. The group played games during the course of the evening, and had a delicious supper at midnight. Their friends gave them a cash going away gift.

Sunday, Sept. 13, the Smiths and their three children, Steve, Wendy and Scooter left for Rimbforest, California. It is near San Bernardino and Lake Arrowhead. Before they left, they tried to say good-bye to as many of their friends as they could. Their friends here wish them good luck in their new location.
